LANDSCOPE — the magazine

LANDSCOPE is W.A.'s conservation, forests and wildlife magazine published quarterly by the Department of Conservation and Land Management. Inside information from the experts keeps you informed about your environment, and LANDSCOPE is excellent for school projects and reference.

Published in living colour, LANDSCOPE gives you the chance to see the State as you've never seen it before. It is a delight for the armchair traveller. But we know the superb photography and fascinating facts will make you want to go and see for yourself, so we have made that as easy as possible.

LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR — the offer

LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR is your passport to Western Australia's extraordinary wild. For only $30.00 LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR gives you four great issues of LANDSCOPE, plus a package which includes maps, guides, and all the latest information on where to go in W.A.'s national parks and forests. You will also receive one year's unlimited free entry for one car into all of W.A.'s varied and beautiful national parks*. With your special pass you will be waved through, and you're on your way to a picnic or an adventure.

* Does not include camping fees.

What great value at only $30. A subscription to LANDSCOPE alone is worth $10 ($15 with the maps and brochures) and entry into the major metropolitan national parks is now $4. Less than half a dozen trips to Yanchep or Walyunga and you'll have covered your costs. LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR can give you a lot, but there is another side to the story.

LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR — your contribution to conservation

Your subscription money for LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR will help support national parks and fund research programs into wildlife conservation. The more you learn about your heritage in the pages of LANDSCOPE, the more national parks and wildlife you see with your special pass, the more you will appreciate your contribution to conservation.
