Dear Landscape Reader,

From this issue, we regret that it has become necessary to charge a small sum to cover Landscape's production costs.

As a reader of long standing, however, please accept this copy with our compliments.

To ensure that you receive good value for money we have added a number of extra pages. These will be used for regular features such as "Readers Letters", "Urban Antics" (a light-hearted look at how to co-exist with wildlife in cities and towns), and up-to-the-minute information on the State's conservation issues, wildlife, national parks and forests.

There are more bonuses with the two annual subscription options.

LANDSCOPE PLUS, this package includes subscription to Landscape for one year (four issues), plus, with each mailing list you get maps, guides and all the good information on the State's national parks and forests.

Included with your first issue will be a map of W.A. showing all the national parks and forest recreation areas, plus details of all facilities. This package is only $15.00 per year and includes all handling charges.

LANDSCOPE GOLD STAR is designed for families who enjoy visiting national parks. This package includes all of LANDSCOPE PLUS, as well as unlimited free entry into all of W.A.'s national parks for one year. This offer can save you plenty when you consider that the entry into John Forrest or Yanchep National Parks is now $4.00. Your subscription to LANDSCOPE GOLD will contribute to the upkeep of W.A.'s national parks and the conservation of wildlife.

Please fill in the attached subscription form stating your preference as soon as possible.

If you have any opinions on Landscape, or any other matters concerning conservation, wildlife, national parks or forests, please write to us.

Yours faithfully,

Syd Shea
