

LIBRARY

Department of Biodiversity,
Conservation and Attractions

This PDF has been created for digital preservation. It may be used for research but is not suitable for other purposes. It may be superseded by a more current version or just be out-of-date and have no relevance to current situations.

Free entry
to Cape Range
National Park from 25 to 27 May 2012

Rediscover Ningaloo Coast World Heritage area

In support of the 2012 Ningaloo Whale Shark Festival, the Department of Environment and Conservation (DEC) is offering free entry to Cape Range National Park for the duration of the festival.

Your free entry to Cape Range National Park is also part of DEC's Rediscover Parks campaign which aims to make it easier for people to enjoy the state's 99 national parks, 11 regional parks and 10 marine parks. Rediscover Parks means better park facilities, better access to information for trip planning and greater awareness of the value of parks.

Other Rediscover Parks initiatives include an online booking system for camp sites and a new interactive website.

Before you go

Download a digital guide to the Ningaloo Coast World Heritage area.
See details on back.

Department of
Environment and Conservation

PAM03503

Six ways to rediscover the Ningaloo Coast

World Heritage area

Book online!

1. Snorkel with abundant marine life and enjoy the crystal clear water of one of our many snorkelling sites.

2. Walk along white sandy beaches or throw a line in the water at one of the many designated recreational fishing areas.

3. Book a whale shark tour and experience what it's like to swim with the gentle giants of the sea!

4. Spend a few nights camping under the stars at one of the many camp sites along the Ningaloo Coast.

5. Visit Milyering Visitor Centre and let our friendly staff help you discover the interesting educational displays.

6. Book a Yardie Creek boat tour and cruise up the gorge, sightseeing as you go. You may even be lucky enough to spot the elusive black-footed rock wallaby!

What World Heritage listing means to the Exmouth community

World Heritage listing recognises the international significance of the Ningaloo Coast as one of the world's best examples of natural heritage. World Heritage listing does not change the day-to-day life in Exmouth, Coral Bay and Carnarvon. People can continue to enjoy fishing, camping, snorkelling, diving, hiking or exercising their dog in the World Heritage area. Visitors and locals are able to continue to enjoy the range of activities available at Ningaloo.

More information

EveryTrail guides contain maps, pictures and information about points of interest for holiday locations and trips.

Check out DEC's EveryTrail guide to the Ningaloo Coast World Heritage area at:
www.everytrail.com/guide/ningaloo-coast-world-heritage-area
or scan this QR code using a smartphone app.

Download the guide and take it with you!

If you plan to camp in Cape Range National Park, visit the DEC Campgrounds website to find photographs and details about camp sites. Some sites can be booked in advance. Go to www.dec.wa.gov.au/campgrounds/coral-coast.

Exmouth residents can purchase a Local Park Pass for $20, giving 12 months unlimited entry to Cape Range National Park. These are available from:

- the DEC Exmouth office during business hours
- Milyering Visitor Centre
- www.dec.wa.gov.au/shop
- (08) 9219 8000

For more information about the Ningaloo Coast World Heritage area:

DEC Exmouth Office
22 Nimitz St Exmouth
Phone (08) 9947 8000

DEC Milyering Visitor Centre
Cape Range National Park
Phone (08) 9949 2808

Images courtesy of SEWPaC, TCWA, Tourism WA, DEC and Tony Howard.
Information current as at May 2012.

Department of
Environment and Conservation

