Take a closer look at nature

Visit the koalas (E5)

Stroll along the 240-metre koala boardwalk to view one of Australia's favourite native animals in a natural environment and learn more about these fascinating creatures.

Spot the western grey kangaroo

Yanchep National Park is home to western grey kangaroos which can be seen in abundance early and late in the day. At other times they shelter from the sun so you might be lucky enough to see them resting in shady areas.

Stretch out on a walk trail

The park has nine walk trails designed to suit a variety of age groups, interests and fitness abilities. They range from short trails of 500 metres to challenging trails of 55 kilometres. Each trail has been selected to showcase the unique biodiversity of the northern Swan Coastal Plain. Information about the walks is available at McNess House Visitor Centre.

Picnic spots galore

All of the barbecues in the park are free. Please follow the instructions carefully and remember to reignite as required. You'll see many birds while you're picnicking in the park but please don't feed them.
