

LIBRARY

Department of Biodiversity,
Conservation and Attractions

This PDF has been created for digital preservation. It may be used for research but is not suitable for other purposes. It may be superseded by a more current version or just be out-of-date and have no relevance to current situations.

LANDSCOPE

W.A.'S CONSERVATION, FORESTS AND WILDLIFE MAGAZINE

Good morning,

As a former LANDSCOPE reader, you'll know that a personal LANDSCOPE subscription will bring you fresh perspectives on Western Australia, its plants, animals and special places.

Recent issues of LANDSCOPE magazine have included stories on the wonders of Dryandra Woodland, the startling landforms of the Kimberley, WA's most remote national park (Rudall River National Park), the hidden diversity of WA's flora, discovering the new Bibbulmun Track, the industrious pebble mound mouse, and much more.

You may have missed these stories, as our records indicate that your subscription to LANDSCOPE has recently expired. Perhaps you've simply overlooked or forgotten to arrange your renewal? It's also possible that our records are a little out of date and you have actually renewed your subscription, in which case we apologise for being behind in our records.

Whatever the situation, we hope you will join us as a subscriber again.

A subscription order form has been included and it is a quick and easy way for you to take out your subscription again (or take out a gift subscription). If you act quickly, you might even win one of 10 copies of the 1998 LANDSCOPE Calendar.

Your subscription will begin with the Summer 97-98 issue and if you act before December 12th 1997 you will be in the draw for a LANDSCOPE Calendar.

We hope to have you as a LANDSCOPE reader again very soon.

Ron Kawalilak
EXECUTIVE EDITOR, LANDSCOPE

