on the management plan for Wellington National Park, proposed National Park additions and the proposed Westralia Conservation Park

The Department of Conservation and Land Management, on behalf of the Conservation Commission of Western Australia, is in the process of preparing a management plan for the existing Wellington National Park, proposed National Park additions and proposed Westralia Conservation Park. The management plan will detail the purpose of the planning area and how the Department will manage it in the long term.

Have Your Say

Public involvement in how the planning area should be managed is an important part of the planning process and numerous opportunities will be provided for this to occur. You are invited to register your interest in the development of the management plan. In doing so, the Department can notify you of opportunities to contribute. All contributions are carefully considered and taken into account.

Although the details of the public participation process are yet to be finalised it may, for example, include community workshops, public displays and submissions to the draft management plan. By providing your contact details we can inform you of events/opportunities as they arise and keep you up to date with our progress.

Progress can also be tracked by viewing our NatureBase website. This has a copy of the issues paper for the area and allows you to comment online. To do this visit: www.calm.wa.gov.au/national_parks/management/ index.html#management_plans
