Take a trip to Western Australia's southern forest region and you'll see some of the most magnificent forest country and awesome coastline in the world. There is a range of camping options in the Southern Forests. Choose from camp sites hidden in the forest in Warren National Park, beside a stream at Carey Brook or close to the coast at Black Point.

Travel time

It takes approximately 3.5 hours to get to Manjimup from Perth. Pemberton is another 30 minutes further.

What to do in the Southern Forests

Bushwalking, camping, fishing, canoeing, boating, beachcombing, swimming, sight seeing, tree climbing, four-wheel driving, scenic driving and much more. Refer to the D'Entrecasteaux National Park and Exploring Southern Forests brochures, available from Parks and Wildlife Service or download at parks.dbca.wa.gov.au.

Best time to visit

All year round, but it can get a bit wet in winter. Generally, you can pick and choose the camp site that suits you best, but some campgrounds fill up quickly on long weekends and school holidays.

Fees

Entry fees apply in national parks.

Camping fees apply at most sites. These fees contribute to the provision and maintenance of recreation facilities and visitor services throughout the parks.

Yeagarup Hut is operated by Pemberton Discovery Tours. Please visit www.pembertondiscoverytours.com.au or call (08) 9776 0484 for more information.

Leave No Trace

Plan ahead and prepare. Remember your safety is our concern but your responsibility.

Travel and camp on durable surfaces. Help us to protect this fragile environment by keeping to the paths and established camp sites.

Dispose of waste properly. Take your rubbish with you.

Leave what you find. These areas are home to many species. Respect the unique environment and leave it as you found it.

Minimise campfire impacts. Campfires are permitted in Park and Wildlife Service supplied fire rings only, except during the bushfire season when no fires are permitted. Please bring your own firewood.

Respect wildlife. Pets are not permitted.

Be considerate of other visitors.
