

were frolicking alongside the road and darted with much grace and agility to a hollow wandoo log. However they paused at its entrance and one remained outside for so long that Mr. Douglas was able to approach so near as almost to touch it. The vivid colour pattern, the lithe graceful stance of the little creature, added to by the erect carriage of the tail, with hairs outstanding to form a flattened brush, made an unforgettable picture. The numbat surely must be the most attractive of all Australian marsupials.

The party had tea at North Bannister and reached Perth at approximately 9 p.m.
