Christmas 2014

Welcome to the Department of Parks and Wildlife's special Christmas edition of the WA Naturally publications newsletter.

For many of us, this time of year is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy a well-earned holiday with family and friends, and hopefully soak up the warm weather and natural beauty of Western Australia.

If you're in need of some holiday inspiration the Explore Parks WA website is a great place to find information on WA's parks and reserves and places to camp or 'glamp'.

Now completely revised and updated The best of the South West is the perfect partner for those of you heading 'down-south' or if you're staying in Perth, Rediscover Perth outdoors will help guide you around city parks and surrounding areas.

Perhaps you're simply looking for inspiration for next year's big holiday in which case Exploring Western Australia's natural wonders is certain to give you plenty of food for thought.

Whatever you're planning this Christmas 'WA Naturally publications – illustrations and photographs' will make a wonderful addition to your home or as a gift for family and friends. This collection of 34 illustrations and photographs captures some of WA's unique parks, plants and animals.

From all of us here at WA Naturally publications we wish you all a wonderful and safe festive season.

We hope you enjoy this edition of our newsletter and would love to hear from you if you have any feedback about LANDSCOPE or any of our products. Please contact us at customer.service@dpaw.wa.gov.au.

Rediscover Perth outdoors

Perth and its surrounds are blessed with beautiful outdoor environments, from rolling tree-cloaked hills in the east, deep blue waters of the Indian Ocean to the west and waters of the Swan River meandering through its very heart. With so many natural settings to relax, recharge and contemplate taking time to enjoy the outdoors is well worth it.

Rediscover Perth outdoors provides information on 37 different parks stretching from Yanchep National Park in the north, to Lane Poole Reserve in the south, Avon Valley National Park in the east and the offshore marine parks and Rottnest Island in the west.

RRP $24.95
150 pages, full colour

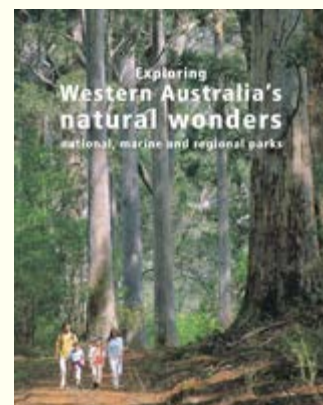

Exploring Western Australia's natural wonders

This book takes you on a journey of discovery into Western Australia's top parks and reserves. A region-by-region guide to 64 national parks, regional parks, conservation parks, nature reserves and marine parks across the State. Use Exploring Western Australia's natural wonders as a guide to help plan your next trip or simply sit back at home and flick through the pages to revel in photographs depicting some of the State's most stunning scenery.

RRP $39.95

WA Naturally on display - illustrations and photographs

A stunning collection of 34 illustrations and photographs, capturing WA's natural places, plants and animals using the artistic talents of two Parks and Wildlife staff, inspired by nature. Hope that you will be inspired to connect with WA's beautiful natural environment. View the full collection.

Two Peoples Bay Nature Reserve is a favourite with thousands of visitors every year. It's crystal clear water and squeaky white sand against granite headlands make it one of the most picturesque areas near Albany.

This pretty pink flower known only by its scientific name Kunzea eriocalyx, occurs nowhere else in the world except three sites within Fitzgerald River National Park on WA's south coast. While its range is highly restricted, the plant is common on the sites where it occurs. This illustration appeared on the cover of LANDSCOPE Spring 2011.

We would love your feedback on any of our products and services, so please let us know what you think by contacting us at customer.service@dpaw.wa.gov.au.
